Walking By Road Man Killed When Struck By RCAF Car

H. B. Sinclair, 72-year-old resident of the Kingsway Trailer Camp, was killed when he was struck by an RCAF truck at 11:35 p.m. Tuesday. City police said the truck was driven by Cpl. James A. McIntyre, RCAF policeman. The fatality took place on 111 avenue, between 104 and 105 streets, just west of the Royal Alexandra hospital. It was the second traffic fatality of 1947.

THERE IS NO sidewalk along this stretch of road, and Sinclair was struck as he was walking along the side of the road.

McIntyre told police he did not see the man at all. He said he was proceeding west when he felt a bump then he saw an air force corporal walking along the side of the road who raised his hand in a signal to stop.

When McIntyre stopped, the air

Lewis Calls Off Coal Strike Threat

WASHINGTON, March 19 (BUP)—John L. Lewis bowed unconditionally today to the government and called off the United Mine Workers' intention to strike on April 1 in the nation's soft coal fields.

THE UMW CHIEFTAIN sent a terse 20 word letter to Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug, unconditionally withdrawing his notice of Nov. 1, 1946, which sought to terminate the Krug-Lewis agreement for government operation of the soft coal mines.

This withdrawal was one of the terms laid down by the U.S. supreme court in upholding the contempt of court convictions against Lewis and the mine workers' union.

Lewis' action apparently insured peace in the soft coal fields at least until June 30, when the government relinquishes its operation of the mines.

LEWIS AND THE union now must pay the $710,000 fine assessed by the supreme court. The fine was reduced by the high court from the $3,510,000 levied by the lower federal court on condition that Lewis comply with its instructions to call off the strike.

Prepare Site For New Leduc Well

Site for the Imperial Oil Ltd. No. 4 well has been prepared and a start was made Wednesday with the erection of the rigging, it was announced by a company official.

In the meantime production on the No. 1 well has been cut down, and 110 barrels came through an 18-inch choke pipe Tuesday. The production of the well has been lowered to conserve storage space while the present road bank is in effect.

Drilling in the No. 3 well is continuing and the drillers have reached the 4,269 foot level. Operations on the No. 3 well are halted while cement on the upper casing is hardening.

BUDAPEST, March 18. — (AP)—The Soviet command in Budapest rejected today protests against Russian interference in Hungarian political affairs and refused for the second time an American request for a three-power investigation of the situation.

Dies in Fire

A 75-year-old man, Nestor Plourde, was burned fatally Wednesday when his shack at Jarvie was destroyed by flames. RCMP said that when they arrived the fire was burning too fiercely to attempt a rescue. The origin of the fire is unknown. The man lived alone in the shack.

Top Officials in League With Gamblers

"Payoff" to Vancouver Police By Underworld Bared at Probe

VANCOUVER, March 19. (CP)—Further startling disclosures of vice graft involving top-ranking police officials were expected here today as the Vancouver police commission continued its hearing on the appeals of 23 officers dismissed or demoted during the recent police department shakeup.

A SENSATIONAL, 42-page letter signed by Louis Tisman, formerly of Saskatoon and a self-confessed gambler, highlighted the opening session yesterday.

In a bizarre outline of efforts by Tisman and his brother Harry to compete with rival vice gangs in the establishment of gambling in this west coast city, the sworn statement declared that:

1. Former Police Chief A. G. McNeil received a protection payoff of $200 a month, and Deputy Chief Corbett $100 a month.

2. Inspector Bell, recently ousted head of the gambling squad, received "nearer $6,000 than $5,000" over a period of years.

3. Harry Tisman had paid protection money to the gambling squad since 1944 and that Detectives Rex Moore, William Vitch and Clinton Owens had taken bribes.

4. That Owens gave prior "raid warnings."

THE LETTER told of gambling at the swank Pacific Athletic Club and named Leo Bancroft and Bruce Snider as a rival gambling organization operating under police protection.

Throughout the letter, Tisman told of openly defying police orders to "close up" and of lucrative concessions given to rival gambling factions.

Recounting an argument with Inspector Bell, Tisman said: "We sparred a moment, no one actually saying anything. He accused me of trying to run the police department — a fine remark from a man who made a department store for himself out of the whole police department."

THE LETTER was read at the hearing by Walter Mulligan, recently appointed chief constable, who was named by Mayor G. G.

Potsdam Pact Is Held Valid

LONDON, March 19. (AP)—A foreign office spokesman said today Britain "shared the U.S. view" that the Big Three Potsdam agreement superseded all other major power agreements with regard to German reparations.

THE SPOKESMAN made the statement following Foreign Minister Molotov's statement to the council of foreign ministers at Moscow that the Big Three had concluded an agreement at Yalta, the text of which had been secret heretofore, under which German reparations were to be collected from post-war current production.

That, official Russian news agency, in a verbatim report of Molotov's statement, said the Yalta agreement was disclosed in pressing the Russian claim for $10,000,000,000 reparations from Germany, part of it from current production. The United States and Britain, opposing the claim, hold the cost of feeding the Germans should be the first charge against current production.

THE VIEW THAT the Potsdam agreement superseded that at Yalta was expressed yesterday at Moscow by State Secretary Marshall.

The spokesman here said Britain's attitude was made clear July 27 last year, when notes were sent to Russia, France and the United States emphasizing that Britain "never accepted the Soviet's $10,000,000,000 claim for reparations" from Germany.

Indict Slayer

LOS ANGELES, March 19. (AP)—A grand jury Tuesday indicted Myron Lee Funk, 23, a foundry worker, for the strangulation murder March 10 of Mrs. Mae Lorene Lund, 46, also known as Mae Preston. The woman's body, clad only in a negligee, was found March 11 on the bank of the San Gabriel River.

Ol' Schnozzola Goes Hollywood With Bestest Bathtub in Town

By ALINE MOSBY

HOLLYWOOD, March 19. — (BUP)—After 50 normal years in show business, Jimmy Durante has gone Hollywood and bought the most expensive bathtub in town. But he thinks it's humiliatin'.

As far as Ol' Schnozzola is concerned, the tub "ain't Durante" and he'd just as soon shove the whole contraption in the ocean.

Chief Mulligan said Tisman first complained of police action to him in February, 1946 saying: "We have been paying plenty and they have been bouncing us around."

Mulligan had discussed the Tisman letter with McNeil and Bell, McNeil and Gordon Scott, then crown prosecutor, had suggested Tisman be charged with libel.

"I SUGGESTED they were putting the cart before the horse. I told Scott he should charge every one named in the letter with bribery or attempted bribery."

Molotov Hopes for Agreement

Strive to Avoid Failure of Parley

By John M. Hightower

MOSCOW, March 19. (CP)—Foreign Minister Molotov told the council of foreign ministers tonight that after hearing the differing views of the United States, Britain and France he still believed agreement possible in Moscow among the four powers on the critical German economic program.

MOLOTOV SAID it did not follow from the disputes which thus far have broken out here that the four powers would not be able to find a common point of view on such issues as the level of German industry, a balanced import-export program and freedom of movement in Germany as well as on similar key matters.

Molotov spoke after Foreign Secretary Bevin, in a studied comment on the Soviet program for Germany, rejected Russian reparations demands and said it was Britain's policy not to agree to any dollar valuations on reparations. Molotov has put forward a Soviet claim for $10,000,000,000 in reparations from post-war Germany.

Floods Cause New Havoc in Britain

LONDON, March 19. (AP)—Floods spread new destruction throughout large areas of England and Wales today, driving thousands of additional persons from their homes as rising waters in some places edged past record peaks established in the disastrous floods of 1944.

NO IMMEDIATE relief was in sight, the Air Ministry forecasting "heavy and prolonged" showers followed by continuous rain.

Thousands of troops, German war prisoners and volunteers worked furiously to save water-purifying stations and gas and electric plants, while others sandbagged sagging river banks and flood walls.

Community kitchens were set up to feed refugees. Troops in amphibious tanks and waterborne jeeps rescued hundreds marooned upstairs in their homes.

"It is our worst disaster in 300 years," said the mayor of the Thames river town of Caversham, Mrs. Phoebe Cusden.

DUBLIN, March 19. — (CP)—Eire, soaked by rainfall totalling 40 inches since last August, is confronted with a grave food crisis this century year of the famine which cost the lives of 3,000,000 people. One Dublin paper quoted Eire's position as "grave as any in its history."

THE AVERAGE Irishman sees his country faced with broad famine next October or sooner, because the sodden condition of the soil makes it impossible so far to undertake sowing. Sown acreage this year is estimated to be about one-fifth of last year's 500,000 acres at this date.

Want Pay Boost Of 55 Millions

OTTAWA, March 19. (CP)—A 36-page report by the civil service of Ottawa salaries committee calling for Canada-wide general increases in all branches of the civil service and simplification of the classification system, was endorsed last night at a mass meeting of an estimated 1,800 members of the association.

Specifically they set the clerical and stenographic classification in five divisions with minimum salaries ranging from $1,200 with five increases of $90 to a maximum of $1,650 for grade 1 to $3,000 with five increases of $120 to $3,600 annually for principal clerk.

It is estimated the increases asked in the report, applied to all civil servants in Canada, would cost the federal government some $55,000,000 to $65,000,000.

By D'Arcy O'Donnell

OTTAWA, March 19. (CP)—The Commons, after hearing Justice Minister Islay warn that "confusion if not chaos would result from an abrupt ending of control in Canada," voted 177-13 today to give the government authority to extend emergency control legislation from March 29 to May 15.

A SIMILAR motion now must pass the Senate, before the government can prevent automatic expiry March 31 of controls on rents, evictions, prices, marketing and other matters.

Doubt Confessed "Dahlia" Slayer

ST. LOUIS, March 19. (AP)—Police reported a slender 22-year-old youth signed a statement last night admitting the "Black Dahlia" slaying but officers in Los Angeles, where the nude bisected body of Elizabeth Short was found, pointed today to discrepancies in the story.

THE 22-YEAR-OLD Miss Short was known as the "Black Dahlia" because of her black hair and clothing.

Chief of Detectives Leonard Murphy identified the youth as Melvin Robert Bailey and quoted him as saying he "got mad" at Miss Short because she refused to go east with him and "took my knife out and used it on her."

The mutilated body of the girl was discovered in a vacant lot in Los Angeles last Jan. 15.

Report Insurgents Attack Greek Town

ATHENS, March 19. — (AP)—Press dispatches today said 400 insurgents had attacked Daphne, 45 miles northeast of Salonika, burned the police station, town hall, and several houses, routed the police force and abducted 40 women and children. Dispatches also said a hand launched an attack near Skra, where a United Nations field team has been investigating.

Prescription Required

Ban Penicillin From Public

OTTAWA, March 19. (BUP)—National Health Minister Paul Martin announced today that penicillin and streptomycin may no longer be sold to the general public except by individual prescription from a physician, dentist or veterinary surgeon.

The minister said the only exception in the new regulations, issued under the food and drugs act, is for the sale of penicillin and its salts for oral use when they contain not more than three thousand international units per dose.

The ban on sales except by prescription applies to sales of penicillin and compounds of streptomycin as well as to the basic product.

Health department officers explain that penicillin is not believed to be injurious in itself but that it can be used in a way which may be injurious to the user if it is not administered under a doctor's control.

Gordon Quits Prices Board

OTTAWA, March 19. — (CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced in the Commons today the resignation of Donald Gordon as chairman of the Prices Board, effective April 15.

Mr. Gordon will return to his pre-war post as deputy governor of the Bank of Canada.

He will be succeeded as prices board chairman by Kenneth W. Taylor, now deputy chairman of the board.

Asks Extension Exports Control

WASHINGTON, March 19. (AP)—President Truman today asked congress to extend the government's controls over exports for a year beyond their present expiration date, June 30. He said in a message requesting speedy action that an uncontrolled outflow of foodstuffs and goods would heighten domestic shortages and increase the already substantial burden of living costs borne by the American people.

2 Women, 3 Kiddies Said Swept Away In Shack By Flood

Fear for the safety of two women and three children, presumably swept away in their shack by the rushing waters of the Red Deer River, was expressed Wednesday by RCMP. Ice in the river "went out" with a roar at 5 a.m. today carrying the shack which was on the bank on the outskirts of the town.

Police said the occupants of the shack either were named Clark or Carp. They were not well known in the community and had only moved into their abode on Tuesday.

When RCMP arrived on the scene shortly after the house was swept out into the river, they said that screams could be heard coming from the shack. At noon Wednesday, the shack was on its side on an ice flow. Clothing and food-stuffs could be seen scattered around but no sign of life.

SINCE THE BREAK-UP, the river has risen from 12 to 15 feet. Large crowds of Red Deer citizens joined the police in an effort Wednesday to reach the stranded shack. The department of public works started to blast the ice away from the bridge nearby in an effort to allow the house to float a little closer to the bridge, so that a rescue effort might be made.

A later report from Red Deer was to the effect that nothing definite is known as to who was living in the house, or if anyone was in it at the time it was swept away.

(A sixth unidentified Red Deer resident was also reported to be missing in the flood.)

A SUDDEN rise in the level of the Red Deer river was another result of the week-end thaws which resulted in swollen rivers and creeks throughout the southern section of the province.

C. Y. Comas reported to police that he had gone out to a Red Deer house in the flooded area in a boat and found no one there. He saw a baby's jacket floating in the water and tried to bring it into the boat on his ear. He said a baby's body slipped out of the jacket and was carried away by the river before he could get to it.

THREE PERSONS reported hearing screams during the night. A woman's handbag and a club bag were found 80 feet from the high bank at the south side of the river. There is a six foot ravine at that point and it is feared the women may have fallen into the water and were swept away.

B.C. Pension Plan Claimed Unique

VICTORIA, March 19. (CP)—British Columbia takes a different stand on old age pensions than any other province in the Dominion. Welfare Minister George S. Pearson said in the Legislature last night.

"THERE IS NOT a province in Canada that wants what we want," he declared. Some provinces that were called progressive did not regard the size of the pension from the same viewpoint.</

Royalty Boost Protest Heard

Should the Alberta government proceed with its announced program of raising royalties on coal from 5 and 7 1/2 cents to 20 and 25 cents, it would mean disaster to many mines in the province, according to two briefs submitted to the Alberta cabinet before opening of the Legislative Assembly Tuesday afternoon.

THE BRIEFS were presented by F. J. Harquail, Hillcrest, on behalf of the Western Canada Bituminous Coal Operator's Association and by V. A. Cooney, Drumheller, secretary-treasurer of the Domestic Coal Operators Association of Western Canada.

Both groups had been forced to make application to the Wartime Prices Board for boosts in the price of coal and both contended that the raises they were allowed were not sufficient to meet full operating costs, except for subsidies.

On behalf of his group, Mr. Harquail suggested that imposition of the new royalty "could only mean the suspension of operating of a large number of mines of this province."

ON THE OTHER HAND, he indicated that should a price increase be authorized it "would be pushed up to a point where substitute fuels and competing coals from the United States would so reduce the market as to render operations definitely unprofitable, with resultant reduced employment in the industry."

Speaking for the domestic operators, Mr. Cooney stressed the point that competition from other fuels would grow and, that there are 12,000 miners in the industry in Alberta who might suffer as a result.

Out of 24 companies, all but three suffered operation losses in the last fiscal year before subsidization, he said, and with additional costs due to higher wages and prices for necessary materials, if the subsidy should be withdrawn it would mean that 70 per cent of domestic coal production in Alberta would show a loss in excess of 30 cents a ton.

The operators were assured government would give sympathetic consideration to their submissions.

Deputies Back Cross Statements

"How could I read a report that wasn't made?", W. J. Williams (Vet-Edmonton) asked in the Legislative Assembly Tuesday afternoon when Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health, explained that he could not table the 1945 report for mental institutions in Alberta until certain information was received from Ottawa.

"THE REPORT that you read was not the report which would be tabled in the house," Dr. Cross answered.

"I'll say it wasn't!" the veteran's representative retorted. Administration of mental institutions in the province came to the fore after the assembly opened and Hon. Lucien Maynard, K.C., attorney-general, laid on the table of the house a letter signed by three leading officials of the department of health. This said that conditions in the mental institutions were as represented by Dr. Cross during the budget debate.

In tabling the letter from the officials, Mr. Maynard read from a Calgary newspaper that the veteran's member had said that Dr. Cross' speech was a "masterpiece of premeditated lying."

THIS STATEMENT had been made by Mr. Williams, the attorney-general said, after Dr. Cross had explained that he got his information from the superintendent of the Dominion bureau of statistics and after he had read a letter from the American College of Surgeons.

The statement tabled by the attorney-general carried the signatures of Dr. R. M. Bow, deputy minister of health, Dr. R. R. MacLean, supervisor of mental institutions in Alberta, and Dr. W. J. McAllister, superintendent of the Oliver Mental Institute. All of these said they had checked the statements of the minister and found them to be true.

TUBERCULAR patients are isolated, insulin is given, socks are provided, fire protection is good, overcrowding is third lowest in Canada and bed capacity in this province has been increased by 41 per cent since 1935, they said.

They also confirmed the minister's statements that patients were receiving the treatment best adapted for their condition and that wage schedules are fair and equitable. New buildings are being planned to relieve the present crowding. The statement ended with the announcement that $225,976 has been spent for new accommodation in the last ten years, providing 900 additional beds for mental patients.

Before The Magistrate

Stating that he stole from his employer because his wages were not sufficient, Walter Tkachuk, Namaso, pleaded guilty to stealing three negotiable cheques and a quantity of clothing when he appeared before Magistrate A. I. Miller, in the city police court Tuesday morning. He was remanded until March 25 for sentence.

The accused is reported to have stolen three cheques from his employer each cheque for $15.10. Evidence was to the effect that Tkachuk had cashed the cheques with his employer and then later stole the cheques back and cashed them again in a bank. He also stole the clothing from his employer.

A 17-year-old juvenile appeared on a charge of entering the home of A. C. Lasker, 10156 130 street, last April. The magistrate waived the youngster to juvenile court. The boy was brought from Saskatchewan. Kenneth Save, Moosomin, Sask., was recently sentenced to 30 days for the same offence. A third had, also involved in the break-in, is to be brought here soon.

Edward D. Hunt and Harvey L. Moran, who arrived in Edmonton Saturday, after hitch-hiking their way from Calgary, appeared in court on vagrancy charges. They were to be released from custody Tuesday. Both promised the magistrate that they had jobs to go to outside the city and would be leaving Edmonton immediately.

Eighteen persons arrested over the week-end appeared in court. No less than 13 of these pleaded guilty to charges under the liquor act. Between them they were assessed a total of $340 in fines.

Alleged to have stolen six dozen bottles of beer from a city hotel, Ray Moore and Wilfred Bourgeois, both of Edmonton, appeared on charges of theft and breaking and entering. They were remanded for trial until March 25 with bail set at $2,000 each.

Aussies Seek Stamp Contacts

Stamp collectors are asked to get in touch with A. G. Hardwick, stipendiary magistrates chamber, central police court, Sydney, Australia. Magistrate A. I. Miller, of city police court here received a letter Tuesday from Mr. Hardwick, requesting such correspondence.

The Sydney man said that he is connected with the rehabilitation of Australian ex-servicemen and that many of them in hospitals have taken up stamp collecting as a hobby. He would like persons here to send stamps to him for distribution among the veterans. He is particularly interested in receiving some peace-time issue stamps.

of Edmonton, appeared on charges of assaulting, and obstructing a peace officer, respectively. Klatt is alleged to have struck Constable Joseph L. Checknitz when he attempted to break up the fight, and Davis is alleged to have obstructed Constable Trevor S. Jones in his attempt to maintain order. Photos Reveal Soil Erosion

The effects of soil erosion on lands in the Morinville district are being demonstrated to farmers there through the medium of photography, according to the provincial department of agriculture.

THIS DISTRICT has been selected as a test area to illustrate the danger from the erosion menace.

Photographs were taken of the lands affected and at meetings held during the winter farmers were shown how serious the inroads of soil erosion had become. Persons working on eroded lands from day to day do not notice effects of the menace, according to J. M. Fontaine, district agriculturalist.

The pictures demonstrate what is happening. The lessons learned were put to use by one farmer last summer, who seeded down his natural waterways to grass. The result was that he was able to deal with his whole quarter section as a unit instead of as small plots.

Intolerable Taxi Service

Public indignation runs high over the intolerable taxi service which Edmonton people are apparently compelled to endure. The stubborn attitude of the city council in refusing to remove or appreciably extend the limit on the number of cabs allowed to operate in the city perpetuates and makes that intolerable service possible.

Despite the ruling that the wartime practice of compelling taxi patrons to share their cabs with other customers is over, certain taxi companies still try to maintain the practice. Unless the customer stands firmly on his rights, he is very likely to have other passengers doubled up with him whether he likes it or not.

While some taxi drivers are notably courteous, many others are abominably rude and do not even try to give the service to which the present rate of charges should entitle the customer.

Quite obviously there are not nearly enough cabs to meet the demand of the public. If there were enough, those who call for taxis would not have to wait some unconscionable periods to get them.

The city council says it is trying to protect the investments of veterans in maintaining the limitation. If that is so, why have veterans' applications for licenses been refused while applications of civilian companies have been granted?

The city council says, too, that there is a traffic in taxi licenses. If that is so, the same and simple thing to do would be to make such licenses non-transferable.

There is absolutely no excuse for the disgraceful taxi service Edmonton people are asked to accept. It is time the city council took proper steps to remedy the situation.

Still on the Job

The chemist has evidently done it again. Manitoba's minister of agriculture says he thinks wild mustard can be banished from the grain fields of that province. If from Manitoba fields, also, of course, from fields in Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Experimenters in laboratories and elsewhere have been busy, he says, for two years, trying to find out how to kill this widely prevalent noxious weed by dosing it with chemicals. The minister adds that the results have been most encouraging and predict the complete elimination of the weed.

Gardeners and farmers will recall that two or three years ago the men with the test tubes went after the dandelion—a peculiarly troublesome pest in this district. They found out how to poison it. With the result that if a dandelion patch or plant flourishes in Edmonton next summer it will be the fault of the householder or the owner of the premises. Treated with this expensive chemical killer, the dandelions which came up last year and the year before simply withered away and died.

If the chemists can do as much for wild mustard as he has already done for the dandelion, western farmers will owe him a hearty vote of thanks—and willingly pay any reasonable return he may collect through the price of the exterminator.

Ties With the Crown

It has been proposed in the Alberta legislature that steps be taken to appoint one lieutenant-governor for all three western provinces, instead of a lieutenant-governor for each of them. This suggestion, happily, was rejected by spokesmen for every party in the house.

A passion for economy is doubtless a virtue in a member of the legislature. But when this leads to a desire to whittle down the essential machinery of government, it may be a dangerous thing. Certainly it is a dangerous thing to meddle with the ties that bind the provinces to the Crown.

For these ties with the Crown are the most valuable safeguards of provincial rights. So long as a direct representative of His Majesty remains at the head of a provincial government, that government may not be relegated to the constitutional position of possessing only residual powers under the British North America Act.

The presence of a personal representative of the King indicates a certain measure of sovereignty in the government over which he exercises his authority.

Before the passing of the Statute of Westminster, under which the Canadian governor-general becomes a representative of the King, instead of, as theretofore, a representative of the British parliament, the provincial lieutenant-governors were actually higher officials than the governor-general. For while the governor-general had no more than the authority of the British parliament, the lieutenant-governors had the personal authority of the Sovereign.

Provincial lieutenant-governors still enjoy that authority. And where they exercise the authority some vestiges of sovereignty, at least, must remain.

To belittle or demean the office of lieutenant-governor, therefore, is to remove one of the strongest guarantees of provincial rights.

Something to Think About

Whoever makes up the annual report on prisons and reformatories in Ontario has a poor opinion of present-day youth—and its parents.

The report has just been tabled in the legislature of that province. It says, on this subject, that Canadian youth was never so insouciant and defiant as it is at the present time; that boys are growing up to believe in "gang rule"; and that parents have "failed dismally in their obligations."

This no doubt is offered as explaining why the jails and reformatories are full and their inmates a thoroughly bad-mannered and vicious lot. The report, it will be remembered, deals only with prisons and corrective institutions in Ontario, and why these are crowded. The author or authors assume something when they speak of "Canadian youth" instead of Ontario youth.

But they are probably not straining the point over much when they suggest that youths in the other provinces are not greatly different from those who graduate into the Ontario institutions. The police in other provinces are having plenty of trouble, too, with criminals in their teens and just beyond those years.

It is easy to say that all down the ages older people have been shaking their heads at the waywardness of the young. Doubtless that is true. But it is said from the point. People, old and young, should be better than those of earlier generations; at least they should be no worse.

Respect for law, deference to parents and to all of advanced years, sound morals, self-respect, regard for experience, willingness to listen to advice—these are the characteristics which should not vary from generation to generation, save to improve. And parents today, no less than in any former age, are responsible for training their children live up to these high standards of attitude and conduct.

It will be better for their own peace of mind, for their boys and girls, and for the country, if parents all over Canada ponder these words of counsel in the light of existing facts, and do not shrug them off as being only the customary fault-finding of older people with youth. The criticism may be extreme. It is certainly not complimentary or comforting. But the thing to consider, very candidly, is how much truth there is in it.

Something Better Needed

An official of the fuel ministry says the Government of Great Britain is looking seriously into the possibility of substituting atomic energy for coal as the prime mover of machinery in industrial plants.

This does not mean that the change-over is imminent. Nor even that it will be made before the weather cycle brings another winter of the extreme severity of the present one, perhaps years hence. But it does mean that the "visions" of arm-chair forecasters is being put on the agenda of problems to be tackled with the backing of national authority and money, by men of scientific knowledge and exploratory talent. With what result, time will show.

Necessity is still the mother of invention, and of the curiosity which leads to new discoveries in the great laboratory of nature. It is necessarily-inspired curiosity that has put atomic energy on the list of possible substitutes for coal as the motive force of industry in Britain. Something has to be done there if production is not to be paralyzed whenever storms and bitter cold block transportation lines when householders need fuel in abnormal quantities.

The "something" may, or may not, be cracking atoms to release their energy. But it is underlining ingenuity to say that people in the old lands—and in this continent as well—must continue to rely for power, production, employment, family needs and national stability, upon so much coal being delivered every day or every week at such and such places.

This winter of adversity is a challenge to humans to find some more dependable way than this to keep wheels turning. It is surely battering the British Isles hard enough to stir up interest there in the subject.

A Voice From Montreal

A Montreal newspaper, which is in position to speak with some prophetic significance, has words of exceeding kindness for Premier Drew of Ontario.

Le Matin hails the Ontario Premier as a "second Sir John A. Macdonald." Mr. Drew had said that without Quebec there would have been no Canadian Confederation and that Canada might have had a flag other than that which has flown from its flag-staff since 1788.

There is historic ground for both these statements, and many men—of both the great parties—have said the same thing. Mr. Drew was quite in order in repeating them, and Le Matin in welcoming the repetition.

But Le Matin went beyond this—a long way beyond. It said such statements could have been expected from Mr. John Bracken, who had many opportunities to make them but "always failed to do so." This looks very much like nominating Mr. Drew to succeed Mr. Bracken as leader of the national Conservative party.

THE UNSEEN AUDIENCE

THE BRAVE NEW WORLD OF TOMORROW

Greek Quicksands

By ELMORE PHILPOTT

PRESIDENT TRUMAN seems to me to be on solid ground when he declares that no nation should have a government imposed on it from outside—contrary to the will of its own people. But his own principle is contrary to his proposed application of it.

For what happens if the people of Greece vote socialist or communist despite U.S. intervention?

There are at least a hundred authorities on record to prove that the two elections of 1946—which elected a Royalist government and then brought back the King—were anything but representative of the wishes of the majority of the people of Greece.

Leland Stowe, one of the world's greatest newspaper reporters was an eye witness of the British intervention in 1944. His broadcast, given uncensored from Rome on January 20, 1945, was one of the finest, bravest, most moving of the whole war.

In his book "While Time Remains" he writes (page 260): "As to where the sympathies of the great majority of the Greek masses stood, the blood and rubble of Athens gave their own testimony. . . . The Greek people lost the civil war but they have not changed."

In September, 1945, Edmund Wilson of The New Yorker reported that the substantial majority of the people were against the Royalist government—which was and still is using Gestapo suppressions. Ross Munro of our own Canadian Press (who is anything but biased toward the left) reported just a few months ago from Greece that if foreign troops were withdrawn the present government would collapse because the great mass of the Greek people are against it.

American intervention could be justified in the Mediterranean area provided that it really was for democracy, the whole democracy, and nothing but democracy.

But all intelligent people must know, before intervention takes place, that it would probably have exactly the opposite results from those intended.

For Uncle Sam would find himself in a most unfortunate position if he spent $400,000,000 on democratic government in Greece only to have the Greek people vote for the very kind of leftist government that the money was spent to keep out.

THERE IS A SIMPLE sure test as to whether the proposed American intervention in Greece is on the level:

Will such intervention also be applied in Spain where the people are still groaning under a fascist dictatorship imposed by Hitler and Mussolini?

Britain's Crisis—I

By F. B. WALKER

FOR 1947, in millions of dollars (f.o.b.):

Food & supplies for agriculture	$2,900
Raw materials & supplies for industry	2,100
Machinery & equipment, including ships	240
Petroleum products	220
Tobacco	200
Consumer goods	140
Total	$5,800

There are other calls on Britain's foreign exchange. In addition to the $5,800 millions listed above, Britain must also find a further $700 million to cover overseas expenditures, including maintenance of the armed forces, her share of the cost of German occupation and various international contributions and colonial grants.

The report estimates invisible overseas income of $300 millions and declares it would be unwise to borrow from abroad more than $1,400 millions, which leaves a gap to be filled by British exports of $4,800 millions.

THE LIMITATION on borrowing from abroad, has been set because the government feels that these loans must last until Britain has established a stable balance of payments and is exporting as much as she imports. It must, in fact, last even longer, until Europe and the Far East have recovered economically and equilibrium has been established in the balance of payments of all major trading countries.

The plan does not alter Britain's long-term target for exports of 175 percent of 1938 volume. But it admits that 140 percent is the limit this year, taking all facts into consideration, including the present fuel crisis.

This is the first of three articles. (Copyright by The Winnipeg Free Press and The Edmonton Bulletin).

U.S. Policy on Greece

New York Herald Tribune

One thing that has not been made clear by the President or by any one else in authority is the extent to which political democracy is to accompany economic aid when the United States steps into Greece. One-half of the proposed credits may be used for arms. These arms will in turn be used to suppress Communist and other leftist guerrilla forces. Does that mean that America takes up where Britain left off in bolstering up indefinitely the royalists and ultra-conservatives in Athens? Or will American moral force be used eventually to liberalize the Greek government in a manner similar to that proposed by Mr. Marshall in China? The latter is the only course that promises success in the long run. Economic aid alone will not meet the Communist challenge if the Communists are left with the beautiful ideological target they enjoy in the present Greek government.

The "Right" to Strike

Providence (R.I.) Journal

Mr. Lewis not only asserts this non-existent "right"—he goes even further, and declares that it cannot be limited in any way. Not even the actual fundamental rights of the American people are so sacrosanct. The right of free speech, for example, is limited by slander and libel laws to prevent its abuse to the detriment of the community.

The American people are presently engaged in a determined effort to redress the one-sided labor law which has brought the nation incalculable loss and, on occasion, dire peril. To achieve this end, they must first of all learn to recognize such fallacies as that voiced by

Mr. Lewis for what they are, and clear away the basic misconceptions with which the entire issue is weighed down. The most prevalent and the most dangerous of these misconceptions can be answered in six simple words: There is no "right to strike."

Must Be Earned

Peterborough Examiner

It is perhaps a little late in the day to dispute with Ben Franklin, but we are heartily sick of hearing that:

Early to bed,
 And early to rise,
 Makes a man healthy,
 Wealthy and wise.

Healthy—perhaps; wealthy—possibly; but wise—a thousand times no! Wisdom is much more likely to come by sitting up late at night, working for it.

Crime Pays Off

Vancouver Province

Last week crime declared a dividend for its Vancouver shareholders.

For their part in crime's local enterprises 37 young men were rewarded with a total of 86 years imprisonment. Another faces the death penalty and another life imprisonment.

In an age where youngsters are inclined to sneer at the old adage, "crime doesn't pay," it would be smart for them at least to examine the kind of wages crime does offer its disciples.

For forgery, armed robbery, trafficking in drugs, burglaries, hold-ups and manslaughter 37 young men will, on the average, serve the next five years of their lives in prison.

Where the Axe Falls

By HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A.

Announcement that the government is to cut expenses has been greeted with cheers by the taxpayers, but among those civil servants who are receiving marching orders it is evoking walls of dismay. For by wholesale dismissals that many civil service departments—especially those which were created or swollen to meet the exigencies of war and demobilization. And among those who are getting the axe are a number of servicemen.

Nobody in his right senses would advocate that the government should keep employees who are no longer required merely to keep them in employment. But the question of who is to be fired and who is to be kept on is one of great interest to servicemen—especially those servicemen who are wondering if they are going to be next.

The important thing is that when instructions went out for the reduction of staffs apparently nobody issued any orders that the same priority which exists for servicemen in applying for civil service jobs was to be applied in deciding which employees were to be continued in the service. Already several cases have been brought to my attention where servicemen have been let go while civilians have been retained—and the basis, or one of the bases, on which the decisions was reached has been seniority.

IN DEPARTMENTS such as DVA, which were staffed practically entirely with veterans and were expanded only when veterans were available for employment, the situation is well in hand. But in other departments which were expanded early in the war years and were staffed almost entirely with non-veterans the situation is different. Here the civilian employees piled up seniority while the veterans in the services.

The only jobs filled by veterans are those which became vacant after the veterans returned from the fighting. It seems only reasonable then that the same preference should apply to veterans in deciding who shall be kept on as does when the civil service are deciding who should be taken on. After all in most civil service jobs one good man is as useful as another and it is pretty difficult to find a basis for deciding who should be retained on a merit basis. Chiefly the decision will be based on the personal likes and dislikes of the department heads—which may have nothing to do with merit.

PRIORITIES for civil service positions lay down that all applicants must be examined. Then three lists are made up. The first list consists of those veterans with disabilities who have passed the qualifying examinations. The second lists those veterans with overseas service who have the necessary qualifications. All others are grouped after that.

It seems to me that it would be only reasonable to draw up the same kind of list when departments are deciding who shall be kept on. First should be the disability cases. Then the overseas veterans. Then the others. In other words the others would be off first. Then if more have to go off the overseas vets would go. And last would be the pension cases. Any deviation from this principle could make a mockery out of the present preference regulations.

The Bulletin's Readers Say:

OPPOSES PROJECT

Editor, Bulletin: In your report of the proceedings in the legislature a few days ago relative to the proposed university at Calgary, it was stated that I was not in the House when the vote was taken. The statement was quite correct—it was my second absence during seven years' service in the House. I happened to be fighting a losing battle with the "flu" on both occasions.

However, in order that there may be no misunderstanding as to my position, I may say quite definitely that I would have voted against the motion had I been present, and had so informed my fellow members several days before the vote was taken.

May I add further that in opposing the motion it was not because I believed it to be a case of "political maneuvering on the part of the C. F. F.", but simply that I do not believe a second university to be educationally sound at the present moment.

REGISTRATION VOTING

Editor Bulletin—Will you please allow me space to give my opinion of the proposed revision of the Alberta Election Act.

I am one hundred per cent behind them in eliminating enumerators and substituting registration, but do not approve of the way they would have us register as that would require an extra trip in order to vote.

In 1944 I acted as DRO in both federal and provincial elections and from my observations I find that it is lacking in many places. I have a plan I believe would eliminate ineligible voters.

For each DRO I would have a registrar. When a voter went to the poll he would go to the registrar first and get a registration card. Next year he would not need to register unless he had changed his residence. That card would allow him to vote at that poll as long as his residence remained unchanged.

This plan would only cost 40 per cent as much as enumeration. If you don't believe it, let me give you some figures. Take the constituency of Stony Plain which I think is about the average size. In the last election their enumerators cost them $1270.25. Their DRO cost $488.00. Had they had one registrar for each DRO at the same price their registration would have cost them $488.00 instead of $1270.25. A saving of $782.00. It cost the provincial government in 1944 $6427.60 to enumerate the city of Edmonton. Had they used my plan it would only cost $2384.

Edmonton has an election law of its own, but I have reliable information that the enumeration for the last election cost the city over $1,000.

Registration can be made on prepared forms. Just your name and address. (2) Are you 19 years of age. (3) Are you a Canadian citizen. (4) How long have you lived of the province; (5) constituency; (6) polling subdivision.

I am at home evenings. If you wish to argue it I will take on all comers.

Bracken Wary Of Communists

OTTAWA, March 19.—(CP)—John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, yesterday charged that "Communists are taking advantage of our democratic institutions only to betray them."

GIVING THE views of his party with respect to communist activities, he said in a statement that the "infiltration of Communists into positions of authority in organized labor ought to put us further on our guard."

"It is neither in the best interests of labor nor of organizations," he added, "on the contrary it threatens the future of the whole labor movement. With this view I am convinced the great majority of trade unionists themselves concur."

Ban Communists

CLEVELAND, March 19.—(AP)—The triennial convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers yesterday adopted a resolution barring Communists from membership.

Engineer Killed In Train Crash

FITZPATRICK, Que., March 19.—(CP)—A locomotive engineer was killed when two freight trains collided on the Canadian National Railways line here last night, derailling both engines and six freight cars. Dead was Laval Pelletier of Parent, Que., engineer of one of the trains. Fitzpatrick is two miles northeast of La Tuque, 170 miles north of Montreal.

Nuns To Vote In By-Election

MONTREAL, March 19.—(CP)—An archbishop's letter opened the way for voting freedom today for 600 cloistered nuns, bound under ordinary circumstances by the vows of their orders to shun contact with the outside world, in a curious sidelight to the campaign leading to the March 21 federal by-election in Montreal.

RT. REV. Joseph Charbonneau, Roman Catholic archbishop of Montreal, gave permission for more than 200 of the cloistered nuns at one convent to exercise their franchise in a letter mentioned in superior court yesterday when Chief Justice O. S. Tyndale directed revision officers to inscribe their names on the electoral lists.

This appeared to open the way for inclusion of the names of approximately 400 other cloistered or semi-cloistered nuns at two other convents within the boundaries of the riding. Approximately another 100 nuns are established at two other institutions but they are not cloistered.

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau
OTTAWA, Ont., March 19.—The acreage bonus plan for barley asked by numerous western grain growers has been dropped by the government as the result of the new floor and ceiling prices announced Monday by Hon. J. G. Gardiner, minister of agriculture.

MANY WESTERN organizations would have preferred the bonus plan instead of the increased fixed prices. The Canadian Federation of Agriculture, however, had expressed no opinion on the subject due to differences among its local organization members.

Incidentally, the control powers of the wheat board over buying and selling of coarse grains remain unchanged; the board always had authority to deal in coarse grains, and also controlled exports of these commodities.

The new floor prices and ceiling for oats and barley do not involve such great changes as might appear at first view.

FOR EXAMPLE, the increased price ceiling to buyers of oats for feed is compensated for by their drawback of making little or no change in the feeders' position. The grower, of course gets more protection against a sudden price drop by means of the increased floor of 61½ cents for No. 1 oats in place of the former floor price of 40 cents.

Barley growers, in the same way, get greater protection by the increased floor price of 90 cents instead of 56 cents. But there is some apprehension now that the new ceiling price of 93 cents for barley may induce Alberta growers of the top barley grades to sell their barley for industrial purposes rather than for seed.

Brain Operation May Aid Burglar

PITTSBURGH, March 19.—(AP)—Judge A. Marshall Thompson yesterday authorized a delicate brain operation to be performed on a 38-year-old veteran burglar who hopes to cure his "criminal tendencies."

Counsel Louis Little, in seeking the court's permission, described the case as the first of its kind here.

Little told the judge that the burglar, Willard Wright of Leechburg, began his criminal career at the age of 14. The lawyer termed the operation as a prefrontal lobotomy in which the front lobe is separated from the rest of the brain.

Bridge

The open pair championship at the Winter Carnival Tournament in St. Paul, Minn., was won by Peter Leventritt and Charles Groden of New York. Leventritt is recognized as one of the outstanding Life Masters of the country, but Groden's name has just begun to appear among the winners in tournament bridge.

Groden showed in today's hand that a top score can be won by taking advantage of the opponents' mistakes. For some reason East underled his ace of spades, and Groden (North) let the trick slide to his jack. Because of the double, he felt sure he would find all of the missing hearts in the West hand.

Most players probably would have led toward the king of spades, but Groden elected to lead a small heart. East put on the ten, the queen was played from dummy and West won. The ten of spades was returned. East won with the ace and shifted to a diamond, which rode to declarer's ten.

Groden now led the queen of clubs. East covered, dummy's ace won and the eight of hearts was returned. West of course refused to cover and Groden let the trick ride. He led a club to his jack, then played all of the diamonds.

On the fourth diamond, when West refused to trump, Groden discarded his club, then led a club from dummy which West was forced to trump. Groden overtrumped and picked up the last two trumps, losing only a spade and a heart and making five-odd for a lone top on the board.

Family Quarrels Preceded Murder

VANCOUVER, March 19.—(CP)—A story of domestic quarrels was told yesterday by Stanley Lowe at the preliminary hearing of Malcolm Woolridge, 20, charged with the murder of his 22-year-old wife, Viola, shot in a downtown rooming house March 1. The Woolridges came here from Edmonton.

LOWE TOLD the court how the accused gave way to his wife's every wish, gave her his money, cooked his own meals, cared for their child and in return was sworn at and assaulted.

On the day of the shooting, Mrs. Woolridge came downstairs bleeding from the nose. After she returned to her room "we heard three bangs and a scream," Lowe said.

Woolridge came downstairs and told Mrs. Lowe: "I've just shot her."

The hearing was adjourned until Friday.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman
Twelve things which detract from a woman's glamor:
1. Wispiness, poorly-groomed hair.
2. Incorrectly applied makeup.
3. Poor posture.
4. An awkward walk.
5. A mottled complexion.
6. The wrong style in clothes.
7. Nervous twitchings.
8. Tenseness, both in posture and personality.
9. Facial grimacing.
10. Unbecoming colors in clothes and makeup.
11. Overweight or extreme underweight.
12. Poorly cared for nails.

If we take this little list as a guide we will find that virtually any woman is attractive who avoids these 12 characteristics. If you will take a pencil and check the items, you will find that many of the defects can be entirely overcome and that all of them can be improved. That is if you are interested enough to obtain the information you will need in order to do so.

Today I would like to concentrate on number eight because it seems to me it has such potent repercussions in so many different ways. Physical tenseness causes us to be awkward and makes easy graceful postures and movement impossible. It also takes the warmth and beauty from facial expression and is likely to tighten the face into older lines. It leads to lines, nervous drummings, and awkward mannerisms.

Personality and mental tenseness are certainly anathema to charm and graciousness and gaiety. For lack of tenseness we will have to look to exercise and relaxation, constructive mental habits, lots of sleep and outdoors, mental discipline which controls the worry habit, good nutrition and a sense of humor.

If you are a worrier and wish to have practical suggestions for overcoming this vicious habit, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of The Edmonton Bulletin. Ask for leaflet No. 84 "Worry."

the right George Mazurenko (left) and Tony Boguski are seen slugging it out in the semi-windup. This was one of the best bouts of the night and one of the two which went the full round, Boguski taking a six-round decision. It was Mazurenko's first defeat since winning the Alberta light-weight crown at Viking last Friday.

Squared Circle Slants

BY DON KILLIPS
Edmonton Bulletin Sports Writer

Edmonton is far from being rated a "good fight town" but give the fans a well billed attraction with plenty of appeal and you can pack 'em in. This was proven, very definitely, last night when the largest crowd to attend a boxing show here since the last RCAF benevolent card in 1942, was on hand at the NWAC drill hall for the Vern Escoc-Gordon Grayston Canadian heavyweight championship battle.

A packed house of 3,300 fans witnessed the five-bout show highlighted by the fifth round knockout of Gordon (I won't stay down) Grayston, challenger of Edmonton. And of the 3,200 ring fans there probably wasn't one who went home not satisfied with the show that produced three kayos as well as lots of smart boxing and other action. The only thing that may have puzzled the crowd was how Grayston kept coming back after stopping so many of champion Escoc's right crosses.

Escoc never showed a great deal in the way of stylish boxing or real slugging, but he boxed the style that was undoubtedly the most troublesome to Grayston. The national champ played it cautious with an effective jab and with the openings came he brought his right across so fast the challenger couldn't avoid taking it on the chin.

One oddity about the fight, as pointed out by Ernie Farr, Calgary promoter who journeyed here to see the battle, was that Escoc seemed to ignore Grayston's body altogether and aimed every punch at the Edmontonian's head.

The game attitude Grayston showed in the way he came off the canvas no fewer than nine times in three rounds won him the praise of the fans. He was down five times in the third, twice taking a nine count, but bounced back to last through the fourth and a minute and a half of the fifth.

Grayston's mistake may have been in trying to carry the fight and force the champ to slacken his guard, which he never did.

For Grayston it was a tough night's work, but he was none the worse after the fight. He was in his usual happy mood while sitting in the dressing room after the fight as friends dropped in to visit him. Someone suggested Escoc sports a powerful left hook and Gordon was quick to agree. "Wow, has he got a hook," replied the western champ.

Escoc was quiet after the show, although very well pleased. He found the drill hall too warm and said it was the first time heat had bothered him.

The title-holder and trainer Billy Jones planned to leave for the east tonight. Grayston said he would like spend "about a week" in town.

Noted amongst other ringersiders were Mayor Harry Ainlay; Air Vice-Marshal K. M. Guthrie, air officer commanding NWAC Group

Capt. Samson, chairman of the boxing committee; Roddy Macdonald, Edmonton boxer, who made good in Madison Square Garden before he was forced to retire because of an injured hand; Benny Geary, Edmonton pugilist; "Ole Joe" Cotton, well-known fighter of years gone by who celebrated his 94th birthday last week.

Only disappointment of the show was the withdrawal of the eight-round semi-windup welterweight bout, scheduled between Johnny Kos of Edmonton and Alec Boguski of Lethbridge. Boguski didn't arrive for the fight and it was announced from the ring that he was suspended temporarily by the boxing commission. Kos was introduced from the ring by announcer Jack Riley just prior to the main event.

Hal Kilgour, Calgary slugger, kept his good record intact in the second go of the night when he knocked out Bill La Pointe, Vancouver middleweight who is now a member of the RCAF stationed here, in the first round. It was his sixth straight kayo and he has never had to go over two rounds in any one of the six matches.

The little fellow who carried the numbers around the ring to signify the next round was Jim Cowan, Jr., son of promoter Jimmy Cowan. Mickey McGuire's work as third man in the ring was widely praised by fighters and fans alike.

U.S. League Coaches Name All-Star Clubs

MINNEAPOLIS, March 19. (CP)—Selection of the United States Hockey League all-star teams was announced Tuesday along with the most valuable player and rookie awards. The league's directors also provided for a bonus of $3,900 to members of the all-star teams.

Only two players, George Johnston, Kansas city winger, and Harvey Jessiman, Omaha's star goalie, repeated last season's performance in making the first all-star team.

Ken Davies of St. Paul's Saints, who won the rookie-of-the-season award also placed on the second all-star team.

Ralph (Bus) Wyckley of Tulsa Oilers, Johnston, Jessiman, Doug Baldwin of Kansas City and Don Morrison of Omaha led the field in the voting among the coaches of eight clubs. Thirty-eight players

Port-Bearcats Soft For Winnipeg Flyers

PORT ARTHUR, March 19. (CP)—Winnipeg Flyers overwhelmed Port Arthur Bearcats 10-4 here Tuesday night in the first game of their best-of-seven Manitoba-Thunder Bay senior hockey playoffs. Second game will be played Thursday.

THIRTY FIVE HUNDRED fans watched the game, which was paced by a power-packed Flyers forward line.

With the Don McRae-Raleigh-Mike Yashuk string accounting for all of the winner's goals, the Manitoba champions took a 2-0 lead in the first period, increased their margin to 4-1 in the middle stanza and then outscored the Bearcats 6-3 in a wide open final canto.

YASHUK, with five goals, was the ace of the trio but it was the dynamic play of McRae and Raleigh that featured a high-pressure Winnipeg attack. Raleigh netted four goals, and McRae one to complete the Winnipeg goal total.

Frank Parker, Bill McKenzie, Jack McLeod and Albert Kelly were the Port Arthur marksmen. McRae, Raleigh and Clint Albright, all students at the university of Manitoba, left for Winnipeg after the game and will miss Thursday's second game.

Champion Flattens Grayston in Fifth

Escoc in Control After Flooring Rival in Third

By BERT GREER
Edmonton Bulletin Sports Writer

Vern Escoc, using a whip-like left hook and right cross to the chin with great success, defended his Canadian heavyweight boxing championship at the North West Air Command drill hall last night by hammering Gordon Grayston, Western champion, to the canvas at one minute 55 seconds of the fifth round.

Escoc has probably fought better fighters than Grayston, but it is doubtful if he has ever fought a more courageous contestant. While 3,200 rabid fans cheered, the Edmonton scrapper got up off the canvas nine times from the third till the fifth round.

THE BLOW that started Gordon's downfall came early in the third after the Edmonton boy had held his own in the first two rounds. A left hook set Grayston up and a chopping right sent him sprawling to the canvas. The challenger never really recovered from that blow as he went up and down like an elevator during the balance of the fight.

Gordon went down for counts of 3 and 5 in the third, 2, 9, 8, 9 and 7 in the fourth and 9 and 9 in the fifth before the crusher came.

THE CHAMPIONSHIP highlighted a fine card that saw two other knockouts, an split decision and a unanimous decision. Failure of Alex Boguski to make an appearance to fight Johnny Kos was the only black spot on the program. The Lethbridge lad was temporarily suspended pending an investigation.

In the other bouts Hee Filioli gained a split decision over Bill Calhoun, Lethbridge; Hal Kilgour, from Ernie Farr's Calgary stable, knocked out Bill La Pointe in two minutes 30 seconds of the first round; Jimmy Nolan, another Edmontonian, of the first round, and Tony Boguski, Lethbridge, won an unanimous decision over George Mazurenko, the newly-crowned provincial lightweight champion.

ESCOE SOON discovered he was up against a tricky fighter and fought cautiously in the first couple of rounds. Grayston artfully dodged the Toronto Bon Bon's savage thrust and threw in a lot of his own heavy artillery in those opening rounds and at one time knocked the champion back on his heels along the ropes when he caught him on the end of the chin with an uppercut.

There was actually little to choose between the two gladiators. Escoc got his "near-sleeper" across in the third. From that time on Gordon was operating like a dog and became an easier target each time he got up off the floor. In fact toward the end the big Toronto boy was measuring him with his left and clipping him on the "button" with his right almost at will.

GRAYSTON MADE a game effort to get up for the tenth time. He rose to his knees, the count of seven, but remained there with both gloves on the canvas for the full count.

SITTING in his dressing room and looking little the worse for the mauling he took, Grayston was more impressed with Escoc's left hook than his crushing right. He thought the blow that sent him down the floor was the one that eventually led to the "black-out" in the fifth.

Jimmy Jones, Escoc's trainer, thought the bout should have ended in the third. He described Gordon as a "cutie" with a bagful of tricks.

GEORGE MAZURENKO, who was crowned king of the Alberta lightweights after knocking out Billy Green at Viking on Friday night, ran into a buzz-saw when he met Tony Boguski. After a cautious first round Boguski opened up and easily took the second and floored his opponent for a six-count in the third with a stunning right to the jaw. He dropped the champ to one knee in the fourth, but George rallied in the fifth and had the Southerner almost in distress in the sixth as he went all over a knockout.

Jimmy Nolan, who packs dynamite in both hands, was too much for Danny Roberts. The Calgaryan kept coming in and caught Danny with a terrific right to the head that sent him down for the count of four. A series of rights and lefts along the ropes flattened the Edmonton lad for keeps.

HAL KILGOUR, who also packs a lot of power and keeps boring in, had little trouble with Bill La Pointe. Kilgour took the steam out of him with a series of stiff punches and then when La Pointe missed with a feeble left he moved in like a tiger and planted a haymaker right on Billy's jaw. The Vancouver lad, who is with the RCAF here, didn't come out of the haze for minutes after he had been carried to his chair.

Patrick Stays With Club

Denies Neil Colville To Coach NY Rangers

NEW YORK, March 19. (CP)—Tom Lockhart, business manager of the New York Rangers Hockey Club said early today that reports that Lester Patrick is severing his connections with Madison Square Garden are "absolutely unfounded."

Lockhart stated that Patrick, a vice-president of the Garden Corporation, will stay in the organization "as long as he wants to" and no such move was contemplated at this time.

THE RANGER official said he knew nothing of any move to make Neil Colville, veteran Ranger forward, coach of the club next season on leaving the present boss, Frank Boucher free for a front-office position. These rumors are not true and if they were any announcement would come from Brig-Gen. John Reed Kilpatrick, president of the Garden.

"These rumors have been popping up all season and they are unfounded. We are not contemplating any changes at this time. As for Patrick, he can stay here for the next 10 years if he wants to."

The Vancouver Sun, in a sports page story Tuesday said that Neil Colville, hard-playing New York Ranger forward, would take over as coach of that club next season. The paper said that Lester Patrick was severing his connections with the Rangers and that Frank Boucher, the present coach, was going into the front office.

Sports Round Up
BY AL COLLETTI
NEW YORK, March 19. (CP)—Less than two years ago young Joe Baksi, the former coal miner from Kulpmont, Pa., turned heavyweight contender, was ready to quit the ring. He hardly was able to earn his keep and found himself in the third-rate class after setting his ears soundly cuffed by Jimmy Bell, Jersey Joe Walcott and Lee Oma. On top of that he had managerial troubles, illness and bad hands. Baksi had decided to retire and earn his living at some other work, even gave the prize ring one more whirl.

SUDDENLY HE found himself winning again and in 1946 he scored four knockouts in four appearances, finishing up with a six-round workmanlike job on Freddie Mills in London last November. Now he has a chance to meet champion Joe Louis at Yankee Stadium June 26 if he whips Bruce Woodcock in London April 15 and probably earn enough of the long green to retire comfortably.

Baksi's break came when he accepted the bid to go to Britain and meet Mills. Until he whipped the Empire light heavyweight champion he was strictly in the peanuts class as far as money was concerned. A few days before he received the Mills offer, a Connecticut small club promoter offered Baksi $250 for a match but he turned it down asking $300. His date with Woodcock probably will bring him $30,000—an astonishing increase over a five-month period.

Jack Dempsey May Referee In Edmonton

The possibility of Jack Dempsey, former world heavyweight champion, refereeing a boxing card in Edmonton in the near future, loomed here today.

Ernie Farr, who trains and promotes fights in Calgary, announced that he has been negotiating with Max Waxman, Dempsey's manager, and that prospects to bring Dempsey west were exceptionally bright. He thought that if the former ring idol came to Calgary to referee, he could easily be persuaded to make an appearance in Edmonton.

JEFFRA, ex-featherweight and bantam champion of the world, may be Al Slater's next opponent. Waxman books fights for Jeffra and informed Farr that Jeffra would be willing to fight Slater, provided he were given sufficient notice.

Farr came to Edmonton to see the Canadian heavyweight battle between Vern Escoc and Gordon Grayston.

Pittsburgh Loses To New Haven 3-2

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 19. (CP)—Two goals by Joe Levandoski gave New Haven Ramblers a 3-2 victory over Pittsburgh Hornets in the first game of their best-of-three American Hockey League playoff Tuesday night. While got the third Rambler goal while Benson and Kemp counted for Pittsburgh.

It will be spent on exclusive Scottish tournaments to raise the status of the players and provide an incentive for them to remain in the country where golf tradition, 600 years old, is as thick as Highland heather.

Dodds Expected Break Mile Mark

HAMILTON, March 19. (CP)—With an entry of 329, largest in its history, annual indoor track meet of the Argyle and Sutherland Highlanders here next Sunday night will feature appearance of Gil Dodds, fastest mile on the North American continent.

In BC Finals

VANCOUVER, March 19. (CP)—The Vancouver Nut House basketball team, composed mainly of last year's dominion champion Hedlund quintet, marched into the finals of the British Columbia women's senior basketball playoffs last night with a 32-30 victory over Vancouver Pies.

The Nut House will open a best-of-five final series against Victoria's Hudson's Bay at Victoria this week-end.

THE SHOOTING STARS come to the capital city with an impressive record. They have not lost a single game during the last two years. It was over two years ago when the Edmonton Starlets beat them on their home floor at Cardston, but since that time they have won seven of their eight games, their only loss being to a boys' team. Cardston will have the edge on the Army and Navy girls in height, their average being 5' 7" while Pats average 5' 6". Shooting Stars average seven pounds more and their average age is 20 as compared with 17½ for the Edmonton girls.

Second game of the series will be played at Westglen on Saturday, March 22 at 7:30 p.m.

Pats Basketball Team From 5 High Schools

Edmonton's Army and Navy Pats who will be challenging the right of the Cardston Shooting Stars to wear the intermediate ladies' basketball title at the Garneau gym on Friday evening, is made up of players from every high school in the city.

Eastwood High has contributed the most players to this club: Sylvia Calder, Doris Nuffer, Mona Creighton, Ev. Cramer, Camille Hodgins, and the "rookie" 15-year-old Eleanor McIntosh who is one of the stars of the squad; Victoria and Strathcona have sent two, Dell Wilson and Audrey Falkenberg represent Vic; Phyllis Cox and Lee Bornstein attend Soxa, From Commercial comes Dot Allan, Cora Shalen and Shirley Wentworth, and from Westglen the lone player is June Kaluk.

Grand National Field Cut to 66
LONDON, March 19. (AP)—The number of entries in the Grand National Steeplechase, to be run at Aintree March 29, was cut to 66 at the final acceptance stage. It was announced today.

This is the same number as the National record field that contested the 4½ mile chase in 1929.

Six horses scratched yesterday, deadline for paying the final £40 (£160) entry fee, were Red April, Cottage Welcome, Sen To, Holbein, China Cottage and Highland Lad.

"Rule Britannia" Thing of Past Royal Navy Drops Claim To World's Biggest Fleet

LONDON, March 18.—(CP)—His Majesty's Navy no longer claiming to be the strongest in a world of seapower misty by the possible effects of atomic warfare, Tuesday received its annual pat on the back in the House of Commons along with a heavy budget cut and a 40-per cent reduction in personnel.

The Admiralty conceded that Britain no longer can hope to rule the waves when young John Dugdale, financial secretary to the Admiralty, told the house that there would be no major naval construction this year and that shipbuilding would be subordinated to atomic and other scientific research.

"We cannot hope any longer to have the largest navy in the world," he said. "But we can hope to have the best equipped."

He said that the Admiralty was studying the results of "Operation Crossroads" at Bikini and that considerable money would be spent by Britain in studies of the effects of the atom bomb on naval warfare.

THE FORMER war correspondent was presenting the sharply curtailed budget for the Royal Navy, which calls for 182,965 men, compared with 402,800 in 1946-47, and for expenditures of £196,700,000 ($786,300,000) compared with £253,075,000 ($1,020,300,000) the previous year.

Premier Douglas Raps Communism

REGINA, March 18.—(CP)—Premier T. C. Douglas of Saskatchewan yesterday attacked Communism as "economically, morally and socially wrong."

THE 43-YEAR-OLD premier, resuming the debate on the budget, which was carried 42-7, acidly referred to the former Lieutenant-Colonel's charge that there were Communists within the CCF as "psychoneurotic."

Police Discover Second Corpse

SCHREIBER, Ont., March 18.—(CP)—A three-week-old search for 25-year-old Marcel Duchesneau of Quebec ended late yesterday when his body was found near the Antelope mine a few miles from here and not far from the spot where Ontario provincial police Monday located the frozen corpse of veteran prospector Joseph Grant of Toronto.

A FEW HOURS before Duchesneau's body was found police said a murder charge had been laid against Charles Martin, 33, formerly of Vancouver, in connection with the death of Grant.

When the latter's body was found a bullet wound in the head confirmed earlier police suspicions of murder.

Other than the charge laid against Martin police did not elaborate.

F. V. Bibbelen, crown attorney at Port Arthur, said the charge against Martin would be read to him Friday at his preliminary hearing on a forgery charge.

He was brought to the Lakehead from Regina last week after serving two weeks in a Saskatchewan jail on another charge.

Fear Widespread Radioactivity

Danger Lurks in Peace Uses of Atomic Energy

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK, March 18.—(AP)—A new danger lurking in peacetime uses of atomic energy, in the form of radioactive metals, plastics, oils, gasoline and possibly household articles and food, was pointed out yesterday to the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers.

This widespread radioactivity would come from the expected use in chemistry and industry of the radioactive atoms that are created by atomic ovens. The possibilities, and some preventatives, were reported by H. A. Winne, vice-president of General Electric, and H. R. Prentice.

Radioactive atoms would be used, and in fact some already are in use, to find out how to make new alloys, improved plastics and all sorts of chemical products.

Initially the amount of atoms added to a process is so small as to be harmless. But the atoms always stay there. In time, it was declared, some materials will build up too many. Then there will be a problem to get rid of them and protect the public.

People exposed to an article containing such atoms, if the exposure were intimate and long-continued, might suffer some harm.

There are already two dozen different kinds of these unusual atoms. It is possible to make hundreds, each different from any other, and many of them almost certainly useful in industry.

Black Market Minor in Canada

OTTAWA, March 18.—(CP)—In relation to other countries, Canada's black market has been "very, very limited," Donald Gordon said Tuesday, and it was "not a major headache of price control."

TESTIFYING BEFORE the Commons banking committee, the prices board chairman said: "With a few exceptions, we have not found any organized black markets. They have been on a small scale and had no chronic or serious aspects. I would say without hesitation that the Canadian people are basically honest."

He said the system of price control "has the early objective of complete decontrol" and added that lifting of remaining subsidies was a matter of timing.

motion. Dr. Faurex said he acted in accordance with house rules.

Some Progressive-Conservative members charged the motion had been carried before Mr. King got to his feet to ask for the recorded division which brought opposition from 13 eastern members.

ON INTRODUCING the motion, Mr. Halsey said the Transitional Emergency Powers Act, under which controls now are being continued, would automatically expire March 29, and it was clear that legislation before the House for extension of specific controls could not be passed before that date.

At the House will take an Easter recess from April 2-15, he felt it would be unsafe to provide for less than a 30-day extension beyond the end of the recess.

On passage of the control motion, members reverted to debate on second reading to a bill providing for the sale and export of agricultural products so that the government may meet requirements of food and commodity contracts with the United Kingdom.

At the night sitting the Commons voted 134-8 to give second reading to the bill which covers the sale and export of agricultural products needed to fill bacon, cheese, eggs, meat and other commodity contracts.

Charles Tyle of Calgary was reappointed secretary-treasurer and managing director.

Live Ammunition Washed Ashore

MIDLAND, Ont., March 18.—(CP)—Investigation by Royal Canadian Mounted Police agents into reports that live ammunition dumped into 400 feet of water in Georgian Bay last summer is being washed ashore confirms that three small cases of mortar bombs have been thrown up by the bay, it was learned Tuesday. Two cases, each containing three bombs, were washed ashore on Griffiths Island, 20 miles north of Owen Sound, early last month.

force man, Corporal A. Lamont, 11801 96 street, told him he had struck a man. McIntyre said he ran back, knelt beside the man and held his head until the ambulance arrived. Lamont sent for the ambulance.

McINTYRE TOLD police he was travelling about 20 miles an hour and that his lights were not good. At the time of the accident he said he was driving with his lights "low or dim."

Cpl. Lamont told police he was walking east along 111 avenue, and he saw another man walking ahead of him. The other man would be about one half block ahead. He added that he saw the truck come along and strike the man.

Chief Constable Reg. Jennings said Wednesday morning no arrest has been made.

Stclair was employed at the Royal Alexandra hospital as an orderly. He is survived by his wife at 11317 93 street, two daughters, Mrs. Roy Lilly, Calgary, and Mrs. James Odon, Seattle, Washington.

agree that reparations should come from capital goods and particularly factories in the western zones.

The British secretary said that when he and the others agreed to this, he thought the question of reparations was finished and there would be no demands for reparations from current production such as have now been put forward by Molotov, who has asked that part of the payment to Russia from current production.

Earlier, top American officials predicted that unless the council finds—and agrees upon—some overall solution for Germany's current problems there will be no solution at all.

THESE INFORMANTS said the council meetings had reached a point at which it was apparent that great difficulties would be encountered in getting to such a solution, and added that the situation in Germany now is so badly split up that piecemeal settlements seem impossible.

Denounces Horrors In East Europe

BIRMINGHAM, England, March 18.—(Reuters)—Bernard Cardinal Griffin, archbishop of Westminster, today called on Britain to denounce "the horrors that are being perpetrated in the name of freedom and democracy in Eastern Europe."

Speaking at a luncheon, Cardinal Griffin said that in Eastern Europe millions were still held in concentration camps or put to forced labor.

"The old Christian tradition is being uprooted and men are being persecuted for their faith and religion," he added. "God has no place in a Communist, totalitarian regime, and consequently man is denied his human dignity and human responsibility."

He asserted that as the Baltic States had been "absorbed" by Russia, the Atlantic Charter has become a "mockery." Men had become afraid to mention the charter because its basic principles had been "utterly rejected."

Vanguard Refit Cost Was $680,000

LONDON, March 18.—(AP)—The Admiralty reported to the House of Commons last night that £178,000 ($680,000) was spent in refitting H.M.S. Vanguard, Britain's newest battleship, with special ordnance and other improvements for use of the Royal Family on their voyage to South Africa. "There was the utmost economy in carrying out the work," W. J. Edwards, civil Lord of the Admiralty said.

New Provincial Labor Act Introduced in Legislature

No changes in hours of work nor in rates of pay appear in the new Alberta Labor Act, which was given first reading in the Alberta Legislature Tuesday afternoon.

Continuation of milder weather is forecast for Edmonton. The skies will be clear early Wednesday afternoon becoming cloudy later on. Milder weather with light winds will be borne out in Thursday's forecast.

A trace of rain fell yesterday at 10:04 p.m. The maximum temperature yesterday was 47 degrees above at 4:30 p.m. while the low yesterday was 24 degrees above at 5 a.m. Overnight low registered 22 degrees above at 6 a.m. The high temperature today will be 46 degrees above, while the low temperature tonight will be 25 degrees above. The high temperature for Thursday will be 51 above.

Asks Extension Farm Aid Act

Present regulations of the Prairie Farm Assistance Act could be improved if the unit upon which this assistance is paid was reduced from a township to 15 adjacent sections of land, members of the Alberta Legislature decided, when they passed a resolution Tuesday afternoon requesting the federal government to reduce the area.

THE RESOLUTION was introduced by Rev. J. A. Wingblade, (S.-Wetaskin), who produced a map to show that the southern and eastern portion of the province received most of the benefit from these regulations.

He felt that the payments to farmers might be spread over a wider area should his suggestion be adopted. He also expressed his respect for township lines, he pointed out, and in many cases farmers are denied the right to appeal for assistance under the provisions of the act because the general average crop in their particular township was so high as to preclude payments.

Says Government Forgets Principles

"Ever since early 1944 the actions of the present Social Credit government have indicated that it has forgotten all about Social Credit and has gone over to the Tories," said A. J. E. Llessem, CCF member of the Legislature for Calgary, addressing the Edmonton CCF in the IOOF Hall Tuesday night. Mr. Llessem referred briefly to Social Credit "sabotage" of the co-operatives through Social Credit support of taxation of the co-ops, the refunding by which "the international financiers Social Credit pretends to fight obtained every last red cent that Alberta owed them."

The speaker dealt in more detail with the refusal this year to undertake publicly owned rural electrification, the refusal to move to prevent increase in rent, the opposition to adequate funds for education, the refusal, despite a request from the Social Credit Convention, for compulsory car insurance at cost. Instead they have indicated that they intend to introduce the Manitoba system," continued the speaker. "Under it car owners would be virtually forced to insure with private companies. Surely this is a matter of throwing our money, by force, into the hands of those of whom all Social Credit leaders pretend to hate the worst—the international financiers!"

THE BILL DOES broaden the duties and responsibilities of the Board of Industrial Relations by: Empowering the board to reduce hours of labor in specified areas or in individual industries;

Authorizing the board to name statutory holidays for which overtime must be paid; Empowering the board to exempt from the act such institutions as school dormitories and some hospitals.

Giving the board final authority in the naming of a bargaining agent with no appeals from its decision; Authorizing the board to issue orders in connection with holidays with pay for both permanent and temporary employees.

Hon. C. E. Gerhart, minister of trade and industry, explained following rising of the house that the government does not intend to endorse "blanket legislation" which might work hardships on certain industries or in certain areas.

THE REASON for extending to the board the right to name what statutory holidays shall be paid for at overtime rates was that smaller industries where employees were not organized might take advantage of their workers whereas in the larger plants they receive overtime rate for statutory holidays.

Holidays with pay occupy an important section of the new act. For permanent employees it is ordered that at the end of the first year's work, the employee shall receive a week's holiday with pay, and at the end of two years, or each year thereafter he shall receive two weeks holiday with pay.

The board is authorized to conduct an investigation into the question of holidays with pay for temporary employees. It is suggested that a pro rata basis be established so that temporary employees may receive pay in lieu of holidays.

A NEW SECTION in Alberta labor legislation is that which requires an employer to furnish, on request of an employee, a statement of the method used in computing his pay, listing all deductions being made.

Industrial schedules in the past have had all the authority of law and in order to introduce changes satisfactory to both parties it has been necessary to create new schedules each time. The new act provides that amendments to existing schedules may be made.

Another section provides for the return of the mining industry to the arbitration and conciliation machinery of the federal department of labor.

EMPLOYERS or their organizations are forbidden the right to oppose the formation of any union, nor may they lend assistance to such formation. Employees conferring with employers on questions relating to a union shall not lose pay for the time thus spent.

The board is provided with plenty of teeth under terms of the new act. It says that any order passed shall have the full effect of law and any infraction of such an order may be dealt with as an infraction of the act.

The new act consolidates the Hours of Work Act; the Female Minimum Wage Act; the Male Minimum Wage Act; the Labor Welfare Act; the Industrial Standards Act and the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act.

Games of chance at fairs and carnivals do not give the public a fair break, J. Percy Page (ND-Edmonton) suggested to the Legislative Assembly Tuesday afternoon while the committee of the whole was considering amendments to the Amusements Act.

"HOW MUCH DID it cost you to find out?" asked one of the service members amid laughter. Mr. Page was trying to determine if the province had any control over operation of these games and made reference to exposes featured in recent issues of Canadian and American magazines.

The province has no control over these devices, he was told. Licenses for carnivals and similar types of amusement were based on the population of the place in which they were showing and on the number of railway cars required to transport their equipment. Hon. A. J. Hooke, provincial secretary, said as he outlined fees these shows pay.

They vary from $10 a year to $250 a year, he said.

Presentations were made Tuesday evening at the 27th annual banquet of the University Agricultural Club, held at the Macdonald hotel.

Vote Amendments Are Before House

Proposals of a committee set up two years ago to investigate the Alberta Election Act were embodied in a bill given first reading in the Legislative Assembly Tuesday afternoon.

ONE OF THE proposals, that registration be used in compiling city voter's lists, was dropped when representations from Alberta's cities were heard in agriculture committee of the house last week, to the effect that civic authorities favored the enumeration system.

Among other amendments the bill authorizes the lieutenant-governor-in-council to declare a public holiday from 4 p.m. on provincial election days. This is designed to assist workers in getting to the polls.

Another amendment reduces the number of votes from one-quarter to one-fifth of the quota.

A further section allows a city voter to cast his ballot at a poll other than his own providing he is furnished with a certificate from the enumerators.

Provision is made for the expiration of a Mechanic's Lien Act given first reading. It may be renewed at the end of that time. In renewing the lien, however, it must be shown what has been paid on account in the intervening years.

May Extend Period Gas Stations Open

Possibility of service stations and garages providing 24-hour service for motorists, will be investigated by a committee headed by Dr. O. J. Hope, of the Alberta Motor Association. It was decided at a meeting of the board of directors, Edmonton branch, at the Club Roosevelt Tuesday noon.

DR. HOPE and other members of the AMA will meet with automobile and garage operators in an effort to come to some decision whereby motorists coming to Edmonton, may receive better service in the purchase of gasoline, and the repair of their cars.

The AMA stand was explained by C. H. Grant, K.C., chairman. Walter Crawford, chairman of the school safety patrol reported on the work of school children acting as patrol-men for other children while crossing busy streets.

For a further measure of safety and to meet a practice seen on many Edmonton streets of school children walking on the roads, a letter will be prepared to be read in all school rooms in all the schools, on safety walking. It was decided to prepare a house-to-house circular to go to all homes, outlining the rights and privileges, as well as duties of pedestrian and motor car traffic.

94 Veterans Assisted Here Since the Veterans' Business and Professional Loans Act came into being January 15, 1947, 94 veterans in Edmonton and district have been assisted to the value of $184,102. J. W. Proctor, district administrator of the department of veterans affairs, said Wednesday.

"The legislation was drawn up by the department of finance, after consultation with representatives of the Bankers' Association," said Mr. Proctor, "and is designed to encourage loans to veterans whose business prospects may be good, who lack backing in capital."

"Since the inception of the loan, careful study has been made to the needs of the veterans and where it would appear the regulations may be credit-worthy applicants, consideration is being given to certain amendments to the legislation," he said.

WHOLE BANK TAKEN Another bank was robbed Tuesday and this time the whole bank was taken. R. B. Leroy, 7409 112 avenue, told police Wednesday that on Tuesday afternoon or evening his home was entered by way of a window. Missing is a kiddies' bank containing between $250 and $3.

President: E. B. Wilson, K.C., who was elected president of the Edmonton Council of Social Agencies, at the organization's annual meeting Tuesday night.

City Will Have Surplus for 1946

The City of Edmonton will have a surplus on 1946 operations of approximately $1,500 in addition to making substantial payments out of current revenue for capital improvements, it was learned at the Civic Clock Wednesday.

CITY COMMISSIONER John Hodgson stated that the 1947 estimates would be ready for distribution to aldermen by the end of this week, and would be presented to council Monday night next. He will request council to arrange for special meetings to consider them.

The 1947 budget has been prepared on the basis of a mill rate of 40 mills. This rate has been operative for several years, and it is anticipated that aldermen will again approve it for 1947.

A REVENUE increase of approximately $300,000 will accrue from the $6,175,765 increase in the city's assessment. Of this amount approximately $136,000 will be available for the city's general revenue account, and $180,000 for the school boards.

Expenditure will be substantially increased in 1947 through the inauguration of the five-day week throughout the civic service, and also because of the increase in prices of materials. The five-day week will become operative in all department on April 1.

ADOPTION RULES Again Amended A proposed amendment to the Child Welfare Act, which according to members of the Law Society of Alberta would have deprived a person the right of going to court to adopt a child, was further amended by Hon. Lucien Maynard, K.C., attorney-general, while the bill was in committee stage in the Legislative Assembly Tuesday afternoon.

THE NEW AMENDMENT provides that a person wishing to make an adoption may apply to the commission, which will submit his petition to a judge within 60 days. No order for adoption shall be made unless the petition is presented in this manner by the commission.

The amendment also provides that a person shall be entitled to be heard either personally or through a solicitor in his application to the courts.

Piloting this measure through the committee, Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health and public welfare, explained the procedure for adoption in the province.

There were a few cases in which Alberta children had been adopted by American couples he said, but in each case welfare organizations in the city in which the American couple lived made investigations and legal adoption was not made until after a year's residence in the child's new home. Then the case was brought before an American judge who completed adoption formalities.

Hold Annual Meeting

E.B. Wilson Named President Council of Social Agencies

E. B. Wilson, K.C., was named president of the Edmonton Council of Social Agencies at the annual meeting held at the Corona hotel Tuesday evening.

S. W. FIELD, K.C., was chairman, and at the meeting reports covering the past year's activities were read.

Robert W. Beasley, Chicago, regional director of social security administration in the United States, was guest speaker.

Others elected to office were honorary president, W. W. Prevey; honorary vice-presidents, Mrs. John Gillespie and J. T. J. Collison, K.C.; vice-presidents, W. J. A. Mustard, K.C., and Mrs. J. Russell Love; honorary secretary, Mrs. G. R. Davison, honorary treasurer, Percy Cowley and executive members, Guy Patterson, K.C., Mrs. A. C. Emery and Kenneth Lewis.

Miss Hargreave Bishop, executive director, in her report said that there were 11,230 cases registered in the social service exchange, "but this represents only a fraction of the total assisted by Edmonton agencies in the past five years," she said.

DURING THE YEAR approximately 1,000 enquiries were made of the exchange, with 20 per cent of the enquiries identified and the enquiring organizations referred to the agencies best suited to help them.

Other services rendered include Christmas Exchange; the annual meeting clearance; the library, council commentary; information and consultation services; education and research and social studies.

"During the past three years the staff has handled a steadily increasing volume of enquiries from agencies and the general public—wanting information regarding the proper organization to which to refer a particular case; seeking advice as to social service projects for their clubs; asking for information regarding training requirements and employment opportunities," she said.

"This year the trend was particularly noticeable," she continued, "and it is a source of satisfaction to us, indicating, we believe, a growing awareness of the council as a community service organization upon which citizens are entitled to call for whatever help we can give in matters pertaining to social welfare."

Mrs. G. R. Davison, secretary, reported two visitors to the council during the year, R. E. G. Davis, director of Canadian Welfare Council, and Dr. Stephen Taylor, of the UK social security scheme.

SHE MENTIONED the moving of the agency into the old police station and the inclusion of two additional organizations, the International Union of Young Peoples' Union and the Edmonton Children's Work Board.

Reporting "a busy and profitable year," Harold Fazakerley, group work division, outlined the need for leaders for community enterprises. A joint leadership course by the council and the recreation commission will be conducted next fall.

His division recommended a civic centre; means of increasing co-operative relationships between the division and the Edmonton public recreation services and recreation in the detention home.

Members of the health division became familiar with the work of various organizations represented, Dr. Mary Hunter reported.

In this line the division had a demonstration of St. John Ambulance first aid; a lecture by Dr. G. M. Little and studied the programs of the Canadian Cancer Society and the emergency housekeeper service.

THEY RECOMMENDED, also, adoption of a subsidized public housing scheme; reintroduction of subsidies on milk and treatment of sex offenders as psychopathic cases.

Child and family division of the council studied juvenile court and probation services, detention houses and training schools Mrs. Cora Casselman reported.

Your Baby and Mine

How to help the child past the second year to become toilet clean is a real problem. It is at this age that children become very conscious of all of their own acts and very negativistic toward those demanded by the parent. The combination of these two factors makes for toilet situations which humiliate the parent eager for her child to be "trained."

It is because scolding, humiliation of the child and drastic punishments increase the child's stubbornness, that they have no place as good training procedures. The mother must understand her own tensions toward this situation for to ease them makes it possible for her to help the child to become more cooperative.

She should tell herself, "Every child eventually becomes controlled in his toilet behavior. This isn't a life or death matter and shouldn't act as if it were. My child is probably one of those who take longer than the average to develop the capacity to control themselves."

If she can think these things, her attitude toward her child's behavior will improve. She will then not grow furious when he sits on the toilet for long periods and then soils his clothes as soon as he is removed. She should know this to be typical behavior, not personal wickedness to affront her.

She should be prepared to accept, with what grace she can, the behavior of the child who suddenly, out of the blue, will not sit on the toilet, but stiffens out and screams as if he were being murdered.

She should know that after the second year children have a strong sense of proprietorship and want to control what comes from their own bodies.

Sometimes the presence of some constipation, because of an unbalanced diet, makes bowel movements painful so that children shrink from the ordeal. Correction of the diet will help this.

All of these situations will be outgrown, and the mother should accept them as temporary and nothing to get upset about. Keep telling the child in a pleasant way, "Oh, some of these days you'll know how to act just the way grownups do. We'll keep trying until you do." This placid expectation of success is the aid the child needs; not fury, not shaming, not punishment.

Our leaflet No. 65 "Toilet Training" may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with this request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

Wants to Agree With His Mother

A girl, who is soon to be married, wants to know how to get along with her mother-in-law. She says that owing to the housing shortage she will have to live with her husband's people until better days, and she craves to know some way of appeasing her husband's mother and making her feel that she has gotten another daughter, instead of an undesired affliction.

Ha! That's the 364 question for fair, and nobody in the world is smart enough to answer it. Centuries ago the wise Chinese made two women in the same house the ideograph for a fight, and the situation hasn't changed. Indeed, it has grown more tense as the respect of youth for age has vanished, and every little bobby-axer thinks she is incarnate wisdom and is determined not to let any senile old woman of 40 tell her where she gets on or off.

OF COURSE, the only really reliable recipe for in-laws keeping out of each other's hair is for them to live a thousand or so miles apart. For distance makes the heart grow fonder, and the faults in others that we do not see do not get on our nerves, as do those that are committed right under our noses.

Unfortunately, however, it is not possible to always keep people who are naturally antagonistic separate. In many cases they are bound to herd together, with resultant fights and wounds that never heal. No tragedies of the war have been bitterer, or more pitiful, than those caused by young wives, with their children, moving in on their husbands' people for the duration. Mothers and their sons' wives, not being able to hit it off together, caused more fatalities to marriages than the enemies' bullets did.

Still and all, while there is no hard and fast follow-this-rule-and-you-cannot-fail method of mothers-in-law and daughters-in-law living together in peace and harmony, there is a way by which they can make themselves persona grata to each other. That is by them assuming the role of hostess and guest to each other. And sticking to it. As long as a mother forced herself to look upon her son's wife as a visitor, who would pack her bags and depart in due season, she would not let all of the girl's little ways get her down. She might be sorry for her darling boy, whom she had spoiled rotten, to be married to a wife who didn't hang up her clothes and keep her room tidy, and who was allergic to the cooking stove, and who wasted his money, but she wouldn't feel free to correct the habits of company.

SHE WOULD think, oh, well, let it ride. She won't be here long, and if she suits Jimmy, that's all that matters. He has to live with her. I don't. So as long as mother-in-law doesn't try to boss daughter-in-law or find fault with her ways, all is well and the goose hangs high.

And of even more importance is it for daughter-in-law to conduct herself as a guest should. If she was visiting someone on whom she wished to make a good impression, she would put her best foot foremost. She would adapt herself to her hostess' routine and try to give as little trouble as possible. She would show appreciation of everything that was done for her comfort. She would compliment mother-in-law's pies, instead of telling how she made her pastry. She would never suggest changing the furniture, or putting up new draperies. She would be gracious to all of mother-in-law's old friends. She would be helpful without being obtrusive. In a word, she would use on mother-in-law the tactics she used in winning her son.

The hostess and guest method of solving the in-law problem is not a sure thing, but it's a good tip. Try playing it.

The Book of Knowledge

(Department: Wonder Questions)

This and the following articles are taken from the Book of Knowledge and can be clipped for saving in a reference book.)

HOW DID THE RED CROSS ORIGINATE?

The red cross on a white ground (the Swiss flag reversed) is the emblem of the Red Cross societies. These international societies for the care of the wounded in war were established under the Geneva Convention of 1864. By this convention, the signatory nations agreed that hospitals, ambulances and their attendants showing this badge should not be fired upon or otherwise molested in their work. Originally the badge was a Maltese cross similar to that worn by the knights of the Crusaders. Now the plain Greek cross is used. This emblem now also stands for help in disaster as well as in war.

The American Red Cross was organized in 1881 by Clara Barton, who had nursed the wounded in the Civil War and, during the Franco-Prussian War, had gone aboard to work for the Red Cross. It was through her influence that the constitution of the society was changed to include aid to sufferers in any great calamity.

WHY WE DON'T GET SOME ILLNESSES MORE THAN ONCE

When people have had smallpox, measles or scarlet fever once, they seldom suffer from them again, even if there should be an epidemic all around them. In some way or other the tissues of the body have become changed as the result of the first attack, and are better able to resist that particular kind of infection. We say then that the body is immune to that disease. Doctors make use of this immunizing power of the body. They can give us a very mild form of a disease, or of a similar disease, by vaccination, and after that we are safe for years from any danger of getting the disease. Vaccination protects us from smallpox. People are often vaccinated against typhoid and other illnesses. They are inoculated with the actual disease germs, which have been killed or weakened to the point where they are no longer dangerous. To inoculate simply means to introduce into the body disease germs or their products.

Sometimes, instead of actual disease germs, a person is inoculated with blood serum of an animal that has been given a disease and has created in its blood "anti-bodies" that fought and killed the disease bacteria, or anti-toxins that rendered harmless the poisons produced by the bacteria. Diphtheria anti-toxin belongs to this class of medicine that prevents disease or, if given in the early stages, cures it.

CAN ANY ANIMAL LIVE WITHOUT FOOD?

There is a very small creature known as the tardigrade, a distant relation of the spiders and popularly known as the water bear, which can dry up till apparently all life is extinct, and after remaining in that condition for years, can, with the aid of moisture, revive and live its normal life once more.

These creatures live naturally in a damp atmosphere, but if the atmosphere becomes dry, they also dry up. All movement gradually ceases, the body shrinks until it looks like a battered grain of sand, and thus it will remain year after year, to all appearances dead. If placed in water, however, in a few minutes it will swell out, the wrinkles will disappear, the legs will stretch out, and gradually it will move. In an hour or so, the creature is as active as ever.

Some snails, too, can remain apparently dead for years without food, and then revive. The most striking example of this was a desert snail from Egypt, supposed to be dead, which was fixed to a tablet in the British Museum, London, on March 25, 1846. On March 7, 1850, it was observed to have awakened from its long sleep and to have come out of its shell. It was removed from the case and lived for a considerable time.

By KAY FORD

There are no Cinderellas in the spring fashion picture. Individuality is the keynote of this season's styles, previewed at the spring fashion show "Fashion is Fun" presented by the Edmonton Ladies Junior Chamber of Commerce in the Trocadero ballroom Wednesday afternoon and scheduled again for the evening.

Fashions of the Hudson's Bay Company store were shown and Miss Olga Laruska was director.

THE EVENING fashions were, as usual most popular with the large audience. Bustles, bertha collars, crinolines and wide collages were seen in most of them. All were very feminine and very festive.

Suits made a versatile picture with peplum suits, cutaway jacket suits, bolero suits, and suits that looked like dresses. One was a stunning model made with a slim black skirt and a white jacket featuring billowing lamp shade sleeves.

AFTERNOON dresses included pure silk prints and crepe dresses with full draped skirts.

It was a fashion show which exemplified high fashion at a moderate price and gave the audience an authentic picture of this season's newest and most popular fashions.

Models were Mrs. Germaine Clark, Mrs. Betty Putlock, Mrs. "Bud" Marquardt, Mrs. Margaret Shortcliffe, Mrs. L. C. Lund, Mrs. J. Davies, Mrs. Royden Francis and the Misses Dorothy Rudd, Yvonne Olsen, Joyce Farrell, Bea Grant, Mary Colson, Kay Kendrick, Myriam Dubson and Helen Poulin.

Teen-age boys styles were worn by Bernie Major and men's clothes were shown by Warren Gerred, George Turton, Leslie McCartney, Allan Arnold and Edward Templest.

Women Plan Vanishing Teas

At the meeting of the University Women's Club in Convocation hall of St. Stephen's College Monday evening members decided to raise money for the Memorial Scholarship Fund by a series of vanishing teas and 25 members volunteered to be initial hostesses.

THE ADDRESS of the evening was given by Col. Joseph Stilwell, liaison officer, western command headquarters. Col. Stilwell spoke on the Chinese and American part of the war in Burma and expressed admiration for the fighting qualities of the Chinese soldiers. He said that if they were well equipped and fed and were provided with good leadership they left nothing to be desired as fighters and were especially remarkable for their endurance. He said that they were grateful for food and were especially fond of the sugar and canned milk.

AFTER THE address, members were entertained in the dining room by the graduates of eastern universities. Mrs. Calhoun announced that an informal dinner would be held in the Embassy room March 24 in honor of Mrs. Richard Crumley, president of the National Federation.

Rehearsals are Nearing End For the "Nutcracker" Ballet

With dress rehearsals scheduled for every night this week, the University Ballet Club is making final preparations for its one-night performance of Tchaikovsky's Nutcracker Ballet in Convocation Hall Friday at 8:30 p.m. First ballet group ever organized on the campus, the club began last fall. It now has 34 enthusiastic performers as a fully-pledged campus group.

UNDER SPONSORSHIP of the Wauwata Society, campus co-ed organization, the club will present the well-known Nutcracker Suite as a ballet. Music is transcribed. An experimental ballet, it attempts to restore the break between drama, singing, and dancing, and runs the gamut from stylized classicism to childlike fantasy. The music, coupled with background sets ordered from Winnipeg, colorfully designed costumes and special lighting effects, will produce a program that is expected to set a noteworthy high for varsity student activities.

Recent Changes In Mission Work

Personnel of workers of the Alberta Conference Branch Women's Missionary Society of the United Church has undergone many changes during the last year. Mrs. W. Kemp, of Calgary, president of the Conference branch said Wednesday afternoon in her presidential address to delegates at Metropolitan church.

Of the 23 workers, such as nurses and community workers on the board, 13 are new. Mrs. Kemp reported. Many workers have returned to the foreign fields from which they were called during the war period.

MISS ISABEL McTAVISH, who served as medical doctor at the Bonnyville hospital, has returned to Hinton, China, and Miss Greta Gault, superintendent at Bonnyville, will be returning shortly to overseas work. The Rev. Edna Daniels has left Dumbellier for Korea, and Miss Ada Sandell has returned also to Korea from the Lamont hospital.

Completion of a maternity department and occupation of the new nurses' home in the Battle River hospital were other changes noted by Mrs. Kemp.

SHE REPORTED that the treasurer had remitted the sum of $3,850 for the year to the Dominion board of the WMS at Vancouver. Theme of Mrs. Kemp's address was "What Do We More Than Observe from the Sermon of the Mount."

Thursday morning reports at the conference will be made by the secretary of Baby Bands, Mrs. J. Burman; secretary of Mission Bands, Mrs. J. Scott; secretary of CGIT groups, Mrs. T. Lawlor; secretary of Mission Circles, Mrs. C. Miller. Presbyterial presidents of Lethbridge, Lacombe, High River, Grande Prairie and Edmonton will also report. In Memoriam service at 11:00 a.m. will be conducted by Mrs. C. Rennie. Conference officers will be elected in the afternoon.

MISS HILDA CANAVAN, of the Katherine H. Prillie hospital, will address the delegates, followed by a panel discussion on social drinking, conducted by the Nurwood Auxiliary. The conference will close Friday.

Former Dominion president of the WMS, Mrs. G. E. Forbes, reviewed work in mission fields in Korea, Japan and China in her address to delegates Monday evening. Prestige of Christianity in China was never higher, she said. The Japanese Christian Church had 490 churches destroyed in the war.
